APRIL 11, 2021

Love your neighbor as yourself (Matt 19:19). Sometimes, we can carry excess baggage around with us in our hearts without realizing it. Conflicts spill out and can affect relationships with family, friends and fellow Christians.

Holly Boedeker
Memorial Member

The past events affecting all of us (Covid, job loss, losing loved ones, etc) only add to our stress and frustrations. What we are bombarded with daily is often incredible, and how we keep from buckling under this pressure is through our relationship with God. He is our strength!

As Christians, God tells us to cast our cares and troubles on Him because He cares for us (1Pet 5:7). Growing up in the church, I've learned the answers to many of my problems are patience and prayer. When you are involved and engaged in activities with others, miscommunications occur. We are human, this will happen. We all need to practice clear communication with complete humility and love....and don't forget forgiveness.

Phil 4:13 says I can do all things through Christ who gives me strength.

SYMPATHY

Thomas "Tom" Foster - recently passed away. Brother Foster served the Fifth Ward Church of Christ for decades and planted other churches such as the Missouri City Church of Christ and was also the minister in Sugar Land. Taken from a post written by the East Pointe Church of Christ in Fort Worth: "He was lauded as a brilliant Old Testament teacher and preacher who could make come to life the stories of old 'that were written for our learning.'" Our sympathy is extended to his wife and entire family.
